Demonstrators Fail To Move Negro Woman

DETROIT (AP)—A Negro seamstress who moved into a white neighborhood says she is going to stay in her $10,000 house in spite of demonstrations against her and the white woman who sold her the property.

Ethel Watkins, 30, told newsmen Thursday night, "I am a firm believer in prayer and I pray God that everything will be all right."

Nightly demonstrations against the Miss Watkins and the former owner of her house, Mrs. Eugenia Nowak, were called "a disgrace to our community" by the Rev. John E. Coogan, chairman of Detroit's Commission on Community Relations.

Miss Watkins bought the house on a land contract and moved into the neighborhood Feb. 1. At first there was no trouble.

Then on Feb. 6 a stone smashed the window of her front door. More stones were thrown at her house two days later and a dining room window was broken.

Mass demonstrations started 11 days ago in front of the homes of both Miss Watkins and Mrs. Nowak, who lives two blocks away in the neat, middle-class neighborhood of mostly two-story brick houses.

A front door window at Mrs. Nowak's home was broken. But police said the demonstrators were for the most part orderly and no arrests were made.

Miss Watkins said a few people in the neighborhood have been friendly.

So she intends to stay and eventually open a sewing shop.

Dock Dispute Finally Ends

Virginia Shippers, Longshoremen Agree

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—The last obstacle to settling the East Coast dock workers strike was removed early today when Hampton Roads longshoremen and shippers agreed on a new contract.

The agreement in Norfolk came after a lengthy session of nearly 12 hours and followed earlier acceptance in Baltimore of a general wage pattern providing 32 cents an hour wage increase over a three-year span.

Local Issues Involved

Settlement in Hampton Roads had been held up because of several local issues. The two sides finally agreed this morning and David Alston, longshoreman vice president for the port, declared: "I will give the employees their back-to-work orders at 10 o'clock."

In New York, longshoremen said they had been instructed to return to work Saturday.

Failure to reach agreement in Baltimore and Hampton Roads had kept some 45,000 workers in ports from Maine to Virginia away from their jobs after a master contract was ironed out in New York Sunday night.

Similar To General Pact

The contract for Hampton Roads covering longshoremen in Norfolk and Newport News, embraces most of the features of the general coastwide agreement. These terms include adjustments in wages, hours, welfare benefits and pensions.

Concessions by the shippers on certain local issues apparently paved the way for this morning's settlement. These include a three-week vacation for employees with over six years seniority and additional paid holidays.

Alston said the workers would meet sometime next week to ratify the pact.

Large Crowd Hears Talk By Sea Captain

A large crowd attended the Town Hall program Thursday night at the High School when Captain Harry Grattidge, former commodore of the Cunard Line, was the principal speaker.

The veteran captain related the story of his 50-year career at sea in the talk which was the fifth in the current Town Hall series.

Author of the book, "Captain of the Queens" which relates his career on the ocean, Capt. Grattidge was a lieutenant on a ship in the Dardanelles during World War I.

During World War II, he was aboard the ship Lancastria when it was bombed by German planes off the coast of France. The seaman also was captain of Winston Churchill's headquarters ship on its way to the Yalta conference.

A native of Stratford, England, he began his seafaring career at 15 years of age. By the time he was 19 he had traveled around the world.

Capt. Grattidge served as captain of the English luxury liner, Queen Mary and Queen Elizabeth.

Arab Block To Ask U.N. For Sanctions On Israel

Mother Saves Daughter

Four Persons Die In Youngstown Fire

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—A young mother thrust her 3-year-old daughter through a window to safety on a porch roof early today just before flames swept an upstairs bedroom, killing the woman, her husband, and their two baby sons.

Dead were Howard O. Hakkarainen, 28; his wife, Carolyn, 24; and their sons, David, 18 months, and Daniel, 2 months.

Escaping death by seconds was 3-year-old Pamela. In childish excitement she told firemen her mother had wrapped her in a blanket and pushed her through a bedroom window onto the roof of a porch.

"Mommy broke the window with her shoe and put me out on the roof, but nobody came after me," Pamela said.

Before any of the others in the family got out they were smothered and burned to death by the fire, which destroyed the interior of the whole apartment. Firemen said the blaze apparently started in a downstairs living room, but they didn't know the cause.

Israel Rejects Ike's Appeal

U.S. Won't Delay Sanctions By U.N.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Officials said today the United States will agree to Israel's request for further talks on withdrawing her troops from the Gaza Strip and the Gulf of Aqaba area, still contending she must have prior guarantees against Egyptian attack.

But Premier David Ben-Gurion added, "We hope the door is not closed to further discussions," and said his government would "make a further effort to reach an understanding with the United States."

There was evident disappointment in Washington but not much surprise, at Ben-Gurion's rebuff to Eisenhower's public appeal of Wednesday night. Officially, however, the United States withheld its reaction pending a detailed study of Ben-Gurion's declaration to the Israeli Parliament.

Actually Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles were awaiting a new message from Ben-Gurion in response to Eisenhower's latest personal appeal, also made Wednesday.

The Ben-Gurion reply apparently is being brought back by Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban, who is expected sometime Saturday.

Jerusalem reports said Eban was carrying new instructions for talks with U. S. government leaders.

In the circumstances Eisenhower and Dulles were described as reluctant to accept the Premier's parliamentary statement as the last word on his position. They thought he may have sent by Eban some modifications which would in some manner change the situation.

But Ben-Gurion strongly reaffirmed in his speech the policy that Israeli troops cannot be withdrawn from Egyptian territory bordering the entrance to the Gulf of Aqaba or from the Gaza Strip.

Doctors Report Ike's Windpipe Is Inflamed

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's doctors attribute his persistent cough to inflammation of the windpipe.

Eisenhower made a brief visit to Walter Reed Army hospital Thursday. There, doctors X-rayed his lungs and sinuses.

Later, White House press secretary James C. Hagerty told newsmen that Army doctors found the President to be in fine shape, except for a throat condition causing the cough.

Hagerty said Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, the White House physician, described the cough as tracheitis — inflammation of the trachea, or windpipe. He said Eisenhower is using spray to fight it.

The doctors said they believe Eisenhower caught cold while reviewing his second inaugural parade a month ago.

Hanover, Winona Clubs Aid Stricken Family

The Hanover Township and the Winona Ruritan Clubs, which work on joint service projects for the general welfare of the community, have joined hands to aid the family of Mr. and Mrs. Dencil Anderson, whose Guilford Lake home burned to the ground Tuesday morning.

Four of the Anderson's five children lost their lives in the fire which also destroyed all of the family's personal belongings and household goods.

Al Marquis of Hanover, Ruritan district governor and immediate past president of the Hanover club, said that a fund campaign has been started to aid the Anderson family. Marquis, welfare chairman of the Hanover club, will work with Paul Gipp, Winona Ruritan Club welfare chairman, in spearheading the project.

Donations are being brought to United Local school where Mrs. Carroll Green, secretary to Superintendent Dale Gates, will act as treasurer. Donations also may be left at the Farmers National Bank here or in Hanover, Marquis said.

Donations of household articles also are being solicited not only to help this family but also to build up an inventory in the Hanover Ruritan Club's supply center at the Hanover Town Hall to take care of any future needs that may arise.

Marquis is being assisted by R. A. Cox, president of the Hanover Ruritan Club; Donald Murphy, president of the Winona Ruritan Club; A. J. Loudon and T. J. Darling. The Columbiana County Chairman of the Red Cross, Mrs. L. A. Way of Columbiana, has voiced approval of the work and pledge assistance of the county Red Cross chapter.

On Dec. 21 they reported him missing.

The youth was graduated from East Liverpool High School in 1954 and was employed by Crucible Steel Co. before entering the Navy.

The body will be returned to East Liverpool for funeral services.

Arabs Gamble On U.S. Backing In Their Move

Crippling Sanctions Sought After Israel Refuses to Withdraw

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Gambling on American support, the Arab block in the United Nations planned to ask the U.N. Assembly today to clamp crippling economic and military sanctions on Israel.

The 27-nation Asian-African group was expected to bring the sanctions demand before the General Assembly this afternoon, then wait for the United States to declare its position.

Leaders of the group held last-minute conferences on the precise wording of the resolution. Basically it reportedly would call on U.N. members to refrain from giving financial, economic or military aid to Israel because of her refusal to pull out of the Gaza Strip and the Egyptian coast on the Gulf of Aqaba.

The Arab move was spurred by Israel's refusal to comply with President Eisenhower's latest appeal to pull back behind the 1949 armistice lines.

Premier David Ben-Gurion told Israel's Parliament, however, that his government is seeking further negotiations to reach an understanding with the United Nations and the United States.

Ben-Gurion ordered Ambassador Abba Eban back to Washington to explain his government's position.

Meanwhile, a growing belief that the United States is prepared to give active support to a sanctions move of some sort against Israel threatened to split the Americans and their allies.

Britain has let it be known she does not favor sanctions at this stage but believes the collective wisdom of the United Nations should be able to solve the problem in some more constructive way. Many of the commonwealth countries appear to share this view.

France, which has backed Israel all through the Middle East crisis, makes no secret of her opposition to sanctions. The Scandinavians also were opposed.

Even the Soviet bloc — openly hostile to Israel — opposes sanctions on the legal ground that the Assembly has no authority to take such measures.

The United States, Israel's major source of economic and financial aid, has not said exactly how it stands on sanctions. President Eisenhower in his broadcast this week said the United Nations had

Seek To Quiz McCoy On Stark Slayings

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Stark County Sheriff Harry W. Grossglau is trying to get Russell McCoy here from Zanesville for a re-enactment of the holdup slaying of two men in the County Line Market Nov. 23.

The 22-year-old McCoy, being held at Zanesville in a double slaying there, has confessed the slaying of Reynaldo Amodio, 30, owner of the grocery at nearby Uniontown, and clerk Paul Cain, 35.

But in his confession McCoy also implicated Dale Bundy, 33, Zanesville factory worker who denies that he took part in the holdup. Bundy is held in jail here.

"I will not charge a man until I have definite proof that he has committed an act of violence," Sheriff Grossglau said Thursday. Bundy was arrested Tuesday in Zanesville, and authorities said he was mentioned by McCoy in his 58-page confession.

Bundy said he was in Stark County with McCoy Nov. 23 but that he was drunk and was not involved in the slayings, according to Stark County Prosecutor Norman J. Putman.

McCoy also has confessed slaying his half-sister, Louise See, and her husband, Lloyd, near Zanesville the night of Feb. 9.

John C. Maher, chairman of the City Parole Commission, said Thursday his agency is following recommendations by Correction Commissioner Anna M. Kross that the prisoners get time off for their "heroic actions."

The airliner was bound for Florida with 101 persons aboard when it crashed killing 20 persons at the penitentiary island in the East River.

O'Neill Seeks Tight Control Of Rest Homes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Tighter control of nursing and rest homes and updating welfare and workmen's compensation records are some of the immediate goals of Gov. C. William O'Neill's Cabinet.

O'Neill disclosed at the conclusion of his administration's first Cabinet meeting Thursday that Oliver P. Bolton, commerce director, has ordered a re-inspection of all rest and nursing homes that have not complied with past safety orders.

Bolton also ordered Charles Scott, fire marshal, to recommend any necessary changes in the state fire regulations to bring them up to date.

O'Neill said Margaret Ireland, welfare director, has ordered case work on old-age pensions be brought up to date within 30 days. Chalmers P. Wylic, administrator of the Bureau of Workmen's Compensation has ordered a similar updating within two weeks.

O'Neill indicated that because of the "good job" the Legislature has done in the past two sessions "no large scale legislative plan is necessary this year."

O'Neill said also he has ordered all Cabinet members to testify when called upon to do so by legislative committees. But he said he warned them against lobbying or trying to influence legislation by their testimony.

Refugee Gives Sponsor Piece Of Stalin Statue

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A young Hungarian refugee has given a bronze memento of his country's revolt against Russian oppression to the man who sponsored his stay here.

John Zsitway, 21, as a mark of gratitude, gave Al J. Schneider a piece of bronze chipped from the heart of Joseph Stalin's statue in Budapest. The statue was destroyed during the height of the rebellion.

Schneider secured homes and work for Zsitway and two other refugees who arrived here recently.

Hank Aaron of the Milwaukee Braves, 1956 National League batting champion, hit .402 against the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Phone Strike Talks Show More Progress

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Federal mediators, scheduled to meet with union and management today, are "optimistic" over the progress being made in settling the seven-month long telephone strike in southeastern Ohio.

Mediators E. L. Phillips and H. J. Montony registered optimism after a bargaining session Thursday between representatives of the Communications Workers of America and Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co.

Neither would disclose any details of the reported progress.

The talks resume today at the Seneca Hotel here.

The union has been on strike since July 15. Disputes over 16 issues in a proposed new contract are holding up agreement.

Mobile Takes Steps Against Racial Violence

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—The city commission has taken another step to prevent further racial incidents.

It offered a $500 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of persons responsible for bombings or cross burnings on private property.

An ordinance was recently adopted specifically outlawing cross burnings. The bombing of occupied dwellings is punishable by death under state law.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

SCHENECTADY. Some of us who are gathered in this city of electronic wizardry for a special conference on secret defense work security got the sudden urge to go out and order some space helmets. News has been seeping in from San Diego of an astronautics parley on space travel.

If the boys there aren't taking it seriously in and out of their hush-hush sessions, they've been wasting much time discussing, for example, a space ship re-entering the earth's atmosphere.

That means they expect to get one off the ground—for how else could it re-enter? And they've tussled with such problems as shock layers and descent from circular orbits from away out.

All this means that we're propelling ourselves into a new era of super-secrecy in a thousand plants such as the General Electric installations here.

IT TAKES MILLIONS of men to weave together the intricate wiring of futuristic war and peace. It will take human skill and patience too, to make certain that these men are not infiltrated by those who will pass on some secret or some sample wiring, or trick gimmick to the Soviet Union.

This government has the right to protect its future and futuristic factories. The skilled workers have the right to work without insult to their loyalty.

No easy problem this. It took over three million men to work on our vital industrial installations since 1949. These 3 million were investigated and cleared. More than two million of these were cleared for access to confidential information only.

But some 750,000 were cleared for access to secret and top secret information. On the skills and loyalties of these men and women depend this nation's security.

As the machines become more weirdly intricate and almost human-brained, this force will increase. So will the government's problems and those of industry and labor.

HOW CAN YOU prevent Communist "sleepers" from infiltrating these one million men engaged in top secret defense work?

Despite what is popularly believed, the American Communist party still has thousands of these sleepers ready to be shifted into key factories. To do this more efficiently, the party is moving its headquarters to Chicago so it can be at the hub of intricate industrialism.

To meet the challenge of the space ship years and to meet it with decency and respect for the rights of the million men and women who will put them together, the government has set up a special commission, working virtually unnoticed.

Labor, too, has moved in to help keep the nation's secrets but still see to it that no one is unjustly accused.

ON THE GOVERNMENT'S side is the 12-man Loyd Wright commission. Mr. Wright, a Los Angeles attorney, is a former president of the American Bar Assn. Under him are two representatives of the White House, the Senate and the House — and six public members appointed equally by the three governmental divisions.

They will bring in their report next June. Then we'll see how a free government can ferret out not only its enemies but even the sneaks who get loose tongue after a run in with their favorite bourbon.

This second crowd is the more difficult group to handle. They're well meaning, but they can spill secrets, too.

THE AFL-CIO realizes this and in a new report to its people has just said there are 22 criteria or reasons for deciding whether an employee can be one of the chosen million, "clearly consistent with the interests of the national security."

"Indeed, under the 22 criteria for being a security risk practically anything a person has ever done can be considered by the boards. Thus, past criminal acts, drinking and other personal habits are considered in connection with a person's reliability or trustworthiness for access to classified information."

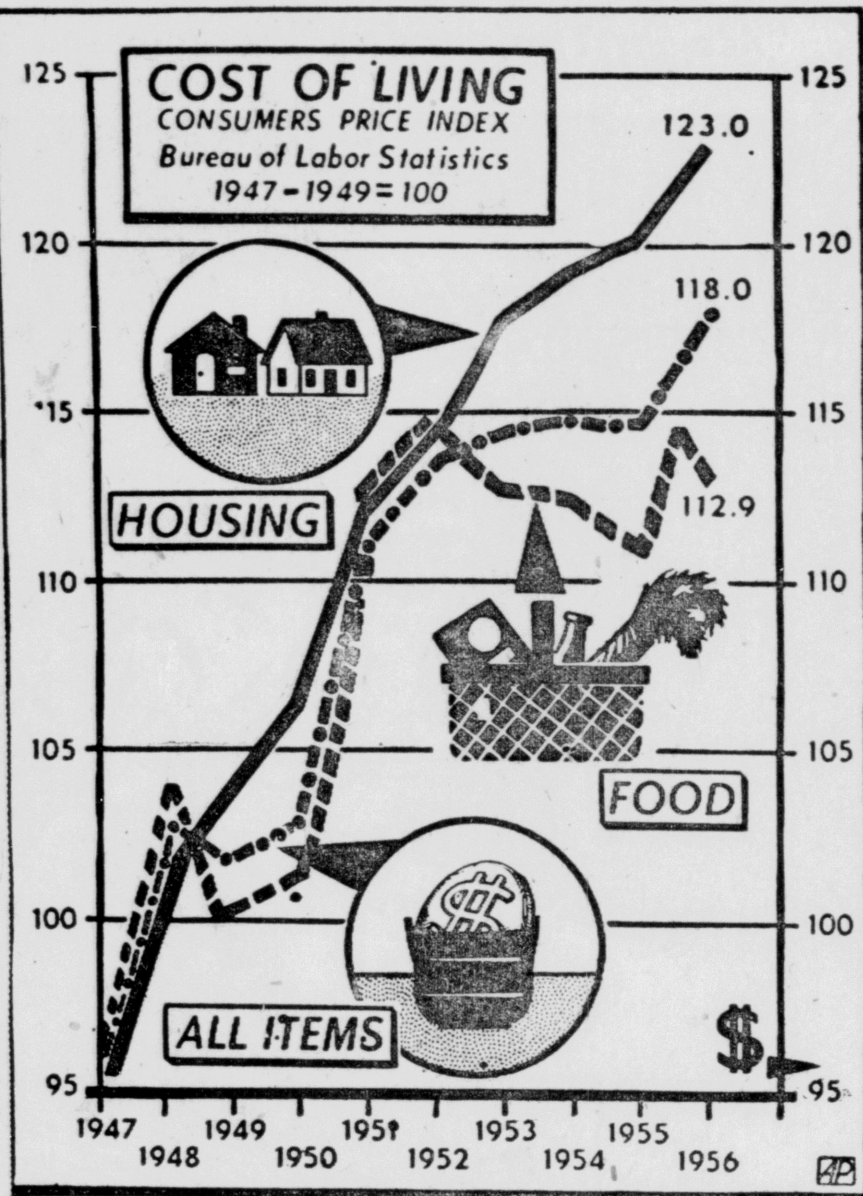

All this makes a sensitive problem. But this space ship era is a sensitive one — which will decide whether we survive — or the enemy does.

Hospital Given Funds

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Public Health Service said today it has given initial approval to a $750,000 federal construction grant for Lake County Memorial Hospital, Painesville, Ohio.

The hospital plans an 82-bed addition to cost $2,250,000.

On Jan. 23 preliminary approval was given to an application for a $316,566 grant for a 51-bed addition to the Geauga County Hospital, Chardon, Ohio.

WHAT HAPPENED TO COST OF LIVING — The chart shows how the cost of living, as measured by Government's consumer price index, jumped three percent during the past year to 118.0 — its first substantial advance since 1952. The index is the official yardstick of living costs for the average city family. It has climbed to 118 of the 1947-49 average which equals 100 for the purpose of comparison.

Guarding Your Health

Syphilis

Complacency in medical affairs — as in other activities of life — is dangerous. This applies particularly to the serious venereal disease known as syphilis.

This scourge of humanity seemed in the way of being conquered largely as the result of the discovery of penicillin. For example, there was a decrease in primary and secondary syphilis from over 107,000 cases in the United States in 1947, to under 7,000 in 1955. The infectious form of the disease decreased during the same period from about 219,000 to some 29,000.

But alarming reports are beginning to come in. From July 1, 1955, to March 31, 1956, more cases of primary and secondary syphilis were reported in the United States than in the corresponding period of the preceding year.

In Massachusetts, for example, which has been considered to have a low prevalence of syphilis, there was a 59 per cent increase in the disease (primary and secondary varieties) from July 1955 to March 1956, as compared with the previous year.

It is clear from this and other evidence that the war against syphilis must be stepped up, not only by means of drug treatment but by every other available means.

The part played by the prostitute in the spread of venereal diseases has long been recognized, but the professional is not the only source of infection. Furthermore, many so-called "innocent" infections have brought disaster to married couples because one of the partners had been previously diseased.

Public health control of the sources of infection and the institution of prompt treatment where infection is found are important measures. Widespread blood testing for syphilis will also reveal some unsuspected cases. That improved control is important is obvious from an understanding of what the disease is and what it does.

Syphilis is caused by a tiny, almost corkscrew-shaped organism which can be seen only under a microscope. When it first invades the human body it produces a small localized sore and if it is caught at this stage the disease can be cured almost always.

After a short time the spirochete of syphilis invades the rest of the body and in a typical case causes a general rash on the skin. At about this time a sample of blood taken will show a peculiar reaction to certain testings (Wassermann, Kline, Kahn and the like) which indicate the presence of the disease. Incidentally, this is not positive at the beginning. Even at this stage the disease can be treated with almost complete success.

If the disease is not caught during these first two stages the spirochete is likely to burrow deeper into the tissues and may attack the linings of the blood vessels or the nervous system.

Over the past few hundred years syphilis has caused untold misery and many deaths. We cannot afford to let it increase again.

Gateway To Africa

By ROBERT TUCKMAN
(For Hal Boyle)

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—Hanoch Nenner, the energetic mayor of Eilat, usually starts off the day asking his secretary "What's the population today?"

His town is growing so fast he can't keep up with it.

Since November, when Israeli forces broke an eight-year Egyptian blockade of the Gulf of Aqaba, the tiny port has doubled its population of 850 and soon is expected to reach 2,000.

By any comparison it still is tiny. But Israel is making big plans and pinning high hopes on Eilat's future. Israelis envision it as a great shipping and commercial gateway to East Africa and Asia. They see it also as a major terminal of a projected overland route across Israel that would be at least a partial alternative to the Suez Canal.

Eilat lies at the head of the Gulf of Aqaba on the southernmost tip of Israel. It is Israel's only access to the deepwater gulf which flows into the Red Sea 100 miles to the south. Israel owns only a six mile stretch of shoreline on the gulf around Eilat. Along the rest of the shoreline are Jordan and Saudi Arabia on the east and Egypt on the west.

For Israelis, Eilat's future depends on free navigation of the Gulf of Aqaba for their ships and the vessels of other nations carrying cargo to and from Israel.

For that reason the Israelis are desperately determined to keep open their newly won "gateway to the east" with its potentially high trade with East Africa and Asia.

And for the same reason Israel, for the time being at least, is defying the United Nations by refusing to withdraw from the southern tip of Egypt's Sinai Peninsula which commands the narrow strait between the Red Sea and the Gulf of Aqaba.

To protect its access, Israel set up a naval command at Eilat soon after the November Sinai campaign. She sent two navy frigates from Haifa on the Mediterranean Coast around the Cape of Good Hope to take up their station at Eilat and at the same time sent overland by truck several torpedo boats and landing craft which now are in Eilat Harbor.

Last week the interior ministry established the Port of Eilat and Eilat Airfield as official frontier posts for entry and exit from Israel. In recent weeks eight merchant vessels have docked at Eilat, which before November was almost completely idle.

Israeli shipping agents now are offering to carry shipments from Europe to East Africa ports at savings of 30 per cent under the Cape of Good Hope route and in about half the three or four weeks required around the cape. On this route, European shipments are offloaded at Haifa, transhipped across Israel by rail and truck and loaded onto freighters at Eilat.

Toledo Nearly Has Case Of Fat In The Fire

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—This nearly was a case of the fat in the fire: Not long after the last patron left a slenderizing salon here Wednesday, a fire broke out in a reducing machine.

An employee denied the machine had been overworked; said the fire was due to "some wires or rods or things like that."

Ohio Bell's Income Hits Record High

CLEVELAND (AP)—In 1956 the net income of Ohio Bell Telephone Co. hit a record high of $32,372,976, its annual report showed today.

This compared with $30,753,850 in 1955.

However, the earnings per share were lower in 1956, at $8.38 a share compared with $8.76 the year before. Involved in this change was an increased investment by the parent American Telephone & Telegraph Co. During last year its ownership of Ohio Bell stock rose from 3,655,000 shares to 4,070,000 shares.

What Washington Believed

George Washington's birthday anniversary has become a watered-down occasion for sentimentality. One can only wonder what would happen if the real views of the leader of all the Founding Fathers were to be stressed, instead.

Since February has been acclaimed in Ohio as American History Month, on the urging of the Daughters of the American Revolution, a few samples of the beliefs held by the first of this republic's "first citizens" are in order.

He thought partisan politicians were termites in the structure of freedom and warned they would destroy it if they had their way.

He said the United States should deal with all other nations as equals; that it should play no favorites. He had a deep mistrust of the wiles of foreign diplomats who would try to twist the United States into warped schemes. He saw no hope of preserving freedom without education that would open the eyes and minds of Americans to their opportunities and responsibilities.

He believed it was the duty of men of means and ability to put service to their country above service to themselves and their families and spent half of his own life performing chores for which he had no personal taste or desire.

He thought the best men should be in public life, not the men who had no aptitude for anything else.

Opposition for opposition's sake, which plagued him as a military leader and as first president, struck him as a pygmy antic unworthy of men of stature.

His greatest contribution to his beloved country was to restrain his temper and his tongue while being heckled and hamstrung by vicious-tempered, small-minded compatriots who were jealous of the stature he held. Had it not been for his remarkable self-discipline and tireless devotion to what he believed to be his duty, the Revolution which created the United States and the Evolution which gave it a sound currency and a Constitution might both have been failures.

Out-Flanked

Kevin McCann, President Eisenhower's chief phrase-maker, made a comment in a speech to a Lorain County audience last Monday that shows how differences of opinion between Republicans are viewed in high places.

Referring to anti-Eisenhower members of the party, Mr. McCann said they do not reflect a basic division within the central party but only the normal dissent found on the flanks of any political party.

Unlike the Democrats, who actually are split between northern and southern factions, Mr. McCann explained, Republicans all stand shoulder to shoulder on the central doctrine of modern Republicanism — that government should serve the people in all ways in which it can help them to help themselves without injury to their traditional rights as the sovereign power of the nation.

This does not deny there are dissident Republicans but denies that they have any influence on the main stream of Republican doctrine. It says in effect the flankers have been outflanked, which is as neat a trick in political strategy as in military strategy.

Actually, no one can know how the outflanking strategy is going to work, because it is still in progress. The final outcome will become visible to historians of political trends in the Republican national convention of 1960, when party delegates decide who is to be their next strategist. Mr. McCann, however, is looking ahead with confidence.

Is There A Difference?

Appropriation bills are now coming to a vote in Congress. Representatives and senators soon will make the actual decisions which will swell or shrink that colossal $71.8 federal budget.

It would be easier for them to shrink it if reassured in advance that millions of constituents would stand behind them. Otherwise, they are expected to do what they traditionally have done — stay on the safe side of the pressure blocs which threaten budget — cutting congressmen with defeat if they cripple pet projects.

It may be heroic for the head of a family to tell it to tighten their belts and make do with what they have. But it is political suicide for an elected official to tell his constituents they should tighten belts and be satisfied with what the government has given them — or maybe a little less.

For those who wonder why the government cannot cut back its spending and keep it cut back, that is where government is different from individuals.

The people who make government decisions do not win votes by economy; at least they never have won them that way in the past. They have won votes by being in favor of the spending projects pushed by pressure blocs in their districts and states.

Unless a pressure bloc in favor of cutting back a proposed budget of $71.8 appears out of nowhere, congressmen are about to begin the complex process of voting on appropriation bills which may well add up to more than $71.8 before Congress adjourns next midsummer.

Test Of Moral Force

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Ike, Congress Present Solid Front In Crisis

David Lawrence

Moral force — the President of the United States and the Congress speaking in one voice to secure in the Middle East—is the only influence, for the present at least, that will be applied in order to secure the opening of the Suez Canal and the Gulf of Aqaba to the ships of Israel and all nations.

There is no intention on the part of the United States to impose any military or economic "sanctions." But it is urging the Egyptian and the Israeli governments to accept the basis laid down by President Eisenhower in his memorandum of Feb. 11 made public last Sunday.

What is more important today even than the President's television speech, reiterating the fundamentals of that memorandum, is the reception given the document at the White House meeting on Wednesday.

This was participated in by 27 members of both parties, constituting the leadership of the two important committees of the House and the Senate on Foreign Affairs and Armed Services.

Almost without exception the Democrats and Republicans agreed with the objectives of the President in trying to find a way to attain the withdrawal of Israel's troops from occupied areas.

THERE WAS a unanimity of feeling and a manifestation of the true spirit of bipartisanship at the meeting which pleased both the President and the secretary of state as well as the members of Congress.

It was a constructive conference because it was agreed that the Feb. 11 memorandum was sound in every respect and that the United States could go no further in giving Israel the iron-clad guarantees she seeks.

Instead, it was urged that Israel be persuaded to accept American assurances and rely on American support for the justice of its viewpoint.

This very fact—that there is no disunity inside the American government but rather a solid unity—when conveyed to the authorities in Israel, will indicate that there is no use in holding out for further concessions because the maximum has already been granted.

If there had been discord, the Israeli cabinet might have felt justified in waiting for further concessions. But when the United States speaks out with one voice, it becomes necessary for Israel to accept what has been pledged, withdraw her troops and then see how the American pledges are implemented.

THE ISRAELIS can always re-enter the occupied zones to protect themselves and perhaps even get military support from other powers if the Egyptians fail to heed the resolutions of the U.N.

requiring free passage for all ships through the Suez Canal and the Gulf of Aqaba.

There was a time at the White House conference when considerable sentiment was expressed in favor of a suggestion by some of the Democrats that a resolution be adopted by the Senate itself to support the Feb. 11 memorandum.

But it was finally decided that this might complicate the situation on Capitol Hill with respect to other phases of the whole problem, such as the status of the Eisenhower doctrine resolution in the Senate.

It was asked specifically at the conference whether the President and the secretary of state had determined to recommend to the United Nations that "sanctions"—coercive or punitive measures—be adopted against Israel if her troops are not withdrawn.

The answer given was that this contingency had not been reached and that the debate in the U. N. Assembly itself would probably occupy two or three days, by which time Israel's attitude will have been disclosed.

MUCH WILL depend on what the Israel government says in answer to the Feb. 11 memorandum and it is not unlikely that there may be delays while further views of clarification are exchanged.

The crisis, therefore, is not as immediate as it has seemed, and the opposition to "sanctions" as expressed in various quarters in Congress is at least premature, if not academic at this point.

Some of the members of Congress wanted to know if "sanctions" would be applied toward Egypt and the group was reminded that some of Egypt's funds abroad have already been frozen and it has not been agreed as yet to pay tolls directly to the Cairo government. Thus a form of "sanctions" is already in operation against Egypt.

As for the imposition of "sanctions" on Soviet Russia for its treatment of Hungary, the idea was considered logical by the conference but not at this moment practical.

ON THE WHOLE, the type of meeting which the President and Secretary Dulles had for more than two hours with the 27 members of Congress should be repeated whenever a critical situation arises.

It is the best way for all viewpoints to be expressed and for the most authoritative information available in the executive branch of the government to be imparted to the members of Congress to aid them in seeing what the Department of State is up against in dealing with the complex problems of the hour.

So progress toward an eventual settlement can be reported and it is based mostly on the significant fact that there is no division in the ranks here but a united American viewpoint as to what should be done on the Israel-Egypt dispute.

Now about juvenile delinquency again, which may or may not be the first outcroppings of chronic orneriness and trouble-making. . .

Might there be less trouble with curable delinquents — the ones who can straighten up later on to become pillars and props in their communities — if what other kids are doing could be made to seem more attractive than what the delinquents are doing?

Even before it became a badge of distinction in a certain stratum of youthful society to possess a reputation for being a recognized social problem, remember what happened?

We wanted to assert ourselves so desperately that we skated on thin ice to get attention. But if the ice cracked under us, as it sometimes did, the tendency then was to hush it up. Instead of being talked about us as social problems, we were whispered about as family throwbacks and what not. We felt cheated because no one knew what hell-raisers we really were.

Juveniles want to be art of something. They want to assert themselves. Everybody knows about the miraculous results when gangs of problem kids can be persuaded to assert themselves in a manner with no trouble attached to it. So-called delinquents can be converted into ordinary kids by a stunt as simple as turning their gang into a team.

Even the worst ones are not hopeless, and the borderline cases have possibilities as great as those of their predecessors in a generation that specialized in fast horses, lively women and liquid lightning. Or in a generation that worshipped at the Stutz Bearcat, the speak-easy and the dimpled knees of strip-tease performers who, themselves, snapped out of their shadowy status and later became respectable citizens.

There are bad kids who will grow up to be rotten adults and nothing can be done about them, except to build prisons. But there are kids who need only a choice between one thing and some other thing that is better, to redeem themselves.

They should be given the choice. They should have their chance; that is the responsibility of those of us who worry about them.

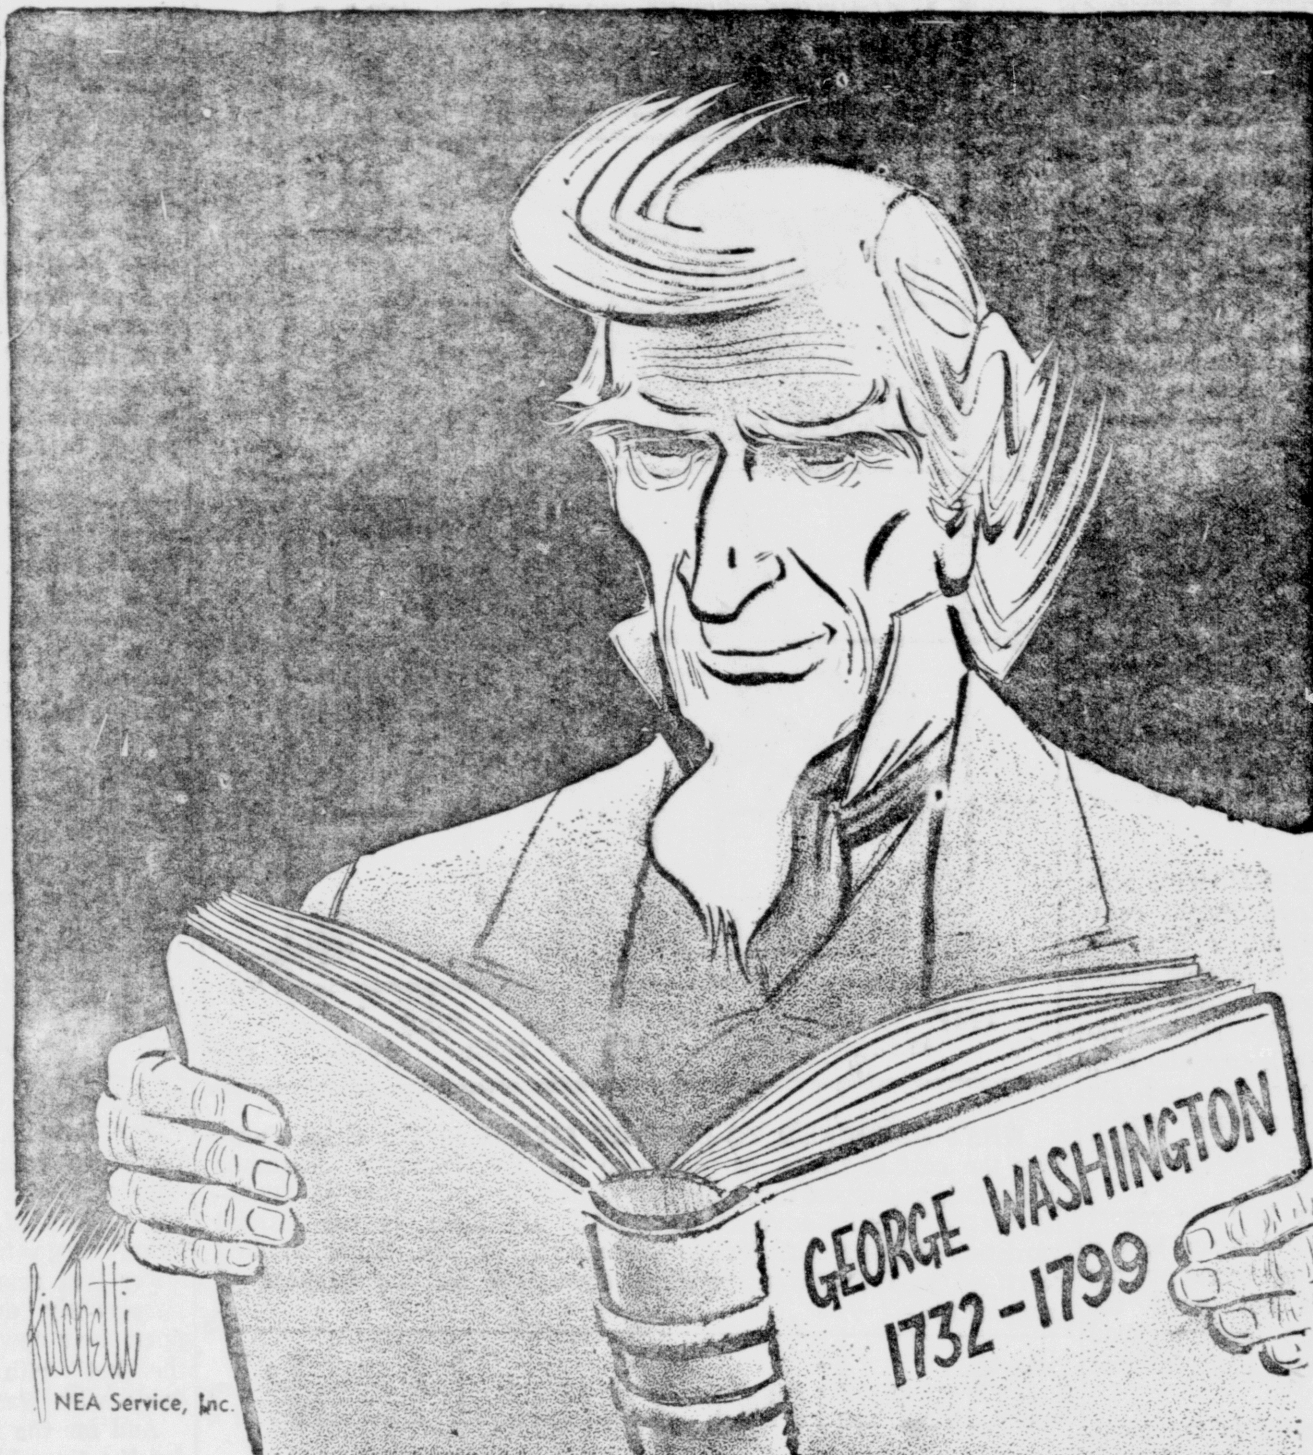

It entails more than bleating at the tops of our voices.

It deserves something deeper than shallow thinking that says the way to handle this problem is to string 'em all up by the thumbs in the public square.

That would be the kind of dramatic recognition which would create a delinquency problem that would make the one we now have seem trifling. Let's put the good kids on display and make them the envy of their generation.

"Actually, That's the Day I Was Born, Too"

Formula For Education

By DR. CLARK GOODMAN

Dr. Clark Goodman is assistant director of technical operations in the Atomic Energy Commission's division of reactor development.

Science continues to shrink distance, to increase leisure and comfort, to reduce manual labor, to widen communications and to open new vistas of the mind.

But we must pay for this expanding existence. We must learn more and learn it faster in this atomic age. And we must keep on learning in order to stay abreast of the times.

As Dr. Mortimer Graves, executive director of the American Council of Learned Societies, has said, "To keep pace with this new age the American must learn as long as he lives; terminal education and the undertaker will arrive on the same day."

Clearly then, we no longer can afford to gorge our minds with unnecessary details as we so often gorge our stomachs with uneeded food. We must increase our educational efficiency, as it were.

Reasoning must replace rote learning. The accumulation of facts about science and technology must be seen as secondary to the mastery of a scientific method of thinking.

The attainment of professional stature in science and engineering is best achieved through an orientation of mind and habit which begins in early childhood and follows continuously through high school and college.

WE MUST IMPROVE instruction by cutting away detail and by increasing emphasis upon fundamental principles and upon development of powers of judgment and discrimination in the formulation and application of these principles. It would, in effect, be a reduction in quantity in favor of quality.

You might call that I am proposing conceptual teaching as contrasted to factual teaching.

This approach is applicable to nearly all fields but is essential in the physical sciences. In brief, the student should be presented with the true educational essence of mathematics, physics and chemistry.

This does not mean that practical applications are ignored. Quite the opposite; for the ultimate all knowledge is first derived from experience. The relevance of fundamental knowledge to real situations must be understood and put to practical use.

However, in learning applied science the basic principles are often lost in a plethora of practical details. As a result the student finds it not only difficult to know where to hang his intellectual hat but he is also likely to forget where he hung it.

It is truly amazing how little we really need to remember and how much we can forget and still retain the true nourishment of a subject.

To illustrate: In classical mechanics as well as in the more modern wave mechanics, the principle of conservation of momentum is applicable without known exception.

The basic principle is certainly simple and it hardly seems necessary to defer acquaintance with it until the senior year in high school. Yet that was my experience and I believe such is still the case for most youngsters.

VALUABLE elementary school time is spent in teaching the child about temperature, presumably because he meets it so frequently in everyday life.

Actually, the concept of temperature, at least its true physical meaning, is much more difficult than momentum. Furthermore, because of its commonplace nature, temperature in the everyday sense is something the child will pick up easily outside of school.

We need a thorough updating of our textbooks. They contain too much scientific stuffing and not enough scientific meat.

There should be continuity in content from grade to grade.

For each group of textbooks there should be a teacher's companion reference book giving background information and perspective.

Otherwise, how can we expect teachers to keep abreast authoritatively on the many new discoveries and developments of atomic age? Here is a real challenge to the textbook publishers.

The falling apple and the earth in its orbit are both familiar examples of the gravitational force which led Isaac Newton to the first real understanding of the natural laws of motion which bear his name.

Modern youth need not wait for maturity to learn of these principles and how they apply equally to the forward thrust of a jet plane or the recoil of a rocket ship. In fact, most youngsters listen more attentively if taught in terms of such examples.

IN THIS WAY we can actually expand rather than telescope the learning period. By beginning with an early introduction followed by a slow soaking-in period, the student will accept these concepts as natural laws rather than as esoteric educational hurdles along his path to knowledge.

As the understanding of the student gradually increases, we would broaden the definition of energy to include the various forms such as heat, chemical, electromagnetic, and mass (nuclear). Likewise, the means of transforming from one kind of energy to another would serve as familiar practical examples.

A number of important measures are being taken to try and fill the shortages of technical manpower and of technically trained teachers in the United States. However, none of these plans will really solve the problem until we have a thorough revision of our elementary and high school technical teaching.

It is not primarily a problem though they need better pay. It is, however, primarily a problem of helping the teacher to know what to teach and to understand why it should be taught.

No Penny Pincher

By ALAN EMORY

Changes in the nation's spending habits have prompted a decision by the United States Mint to spend nearly 50 per cent more in the new fiscal year in penny production.

William H. Brett, director of the mint, told members of a House Appropriations subcommittee that 434 million more pennies would be stamped in the year beginning July 1.

Leland Howard, assistant director, said that in the last 18 months pennies accounted for about 83 per cent of total coin production, compared with a normal 60 to 65 per cent.

"There has been a change in the monetary habits of the public," Mr. Howard said. He cited sales taxes, vending machines and "odd pricing, such as $3.98."

"During good times," he said, "people have a habit of taking their small change, particularly their pennies and pitching them in a box or dresser drawer." In less prosperous times the people get them out and use them. They gather up bottles around the house and get deposits on them.

Rep. Thom Steed said he was "amazed" at the "colossal" production of pennies. Mr. Brett noted that as a result of hurricane Connie and the Pennsylvania floods the Pennsylvania Legislature passed a new cigarette tax, so vending machines went from 25 cents on smaller brands to 26 cents and to 27 cents on larger brands.

In the first half of 1955, he added, the United States took back 1½ million pennies from the Federal Reserve Bank in Philadelphia and gave them none. In the last half, he said, the bank took more than 66 million and "we had a rough time filling that demand."

Mr. Brett estimated that the 1956 vending machine "take" came to two billion dollars about four times what it was three years ago. There has not been "an excessive flow back" of coins so far, he told the congressmen.

Figures presented by the Mint to the subcommittee showed that during the current fiscal year, which ends June 30, it expected to produce 1,093,000,000 pennies at an average cost of 77 cents per 1,000, or a total cost of $843,300.

In the new fiscal year production is expected to reach 1,427,000,000 pennies at an average cost of 84 cents a thousand, for a total cost of $1,204,000.

Total spending on domestic coinage is expected to increase from $1,381,000 to $1,907,000, with nickel production up 11 per cent, dime production 15 per cent quarter production 27 per cent and half dollar production 251 per cent.

A Break For Art Lovers

Huntington Hartford, of the A & P family, is to build a 10-story art gallery to which you may go without seeing too many expressionistic, abstractive and surrealistic paintings completely over your head and requiring a corps of interpreters. Mr. Hartford will call it a gallery of modern art but will carry out his belief that a painting can be good and still easy on the eyes. He holds that some of the modern boys have gone "an amazing distance toward wiping out all the gains made in the last 500 years in the world of art." And we are with him.

WE LIKE TO LOOK at a work of art and know what the artist was driving at. And we understand Mr. Hartford will have in his gallery none of the following type "masterpieces" in current demand at high prices:

1—A putty knife, two egg yolks, a feather duster, a nest of wasps, one broken bottle of Angostura Bitters and a head of red cabbage, entitled "Riviera Moonlight."

2—Half an ashtray, one fire-hydrant, three "I Like Ike" buttons, a rubber heel, a sunflower blossom and an assortment of knick-knacks found in an old incinerator. Name: "The Lovers."

3—A celery stalk, indigo stains from a white suit, a stepladder, a turkey wing, a pizza pie, four mandolin strings and a toupee. Title: "The River Bend."

4—CLOSEUP of an unwashed waffle-iron against a cluster of soup bunches, barbershop sweepings, baby turtles, bicycle pedals and a large corkscrew with side whiskers. Title: "The Van Guysen Children."

5—A conglomeration of picnic-table stains, cigar butts and delicatessen-store window displays scattered around what seems to be a hall-but in struggle to adjust a hearing aid correctly. Green, purple and orange are the dominant colors. The whole thing appears to have been done with a spray while blindfolded. The title: "Mountain Reprieve."

A MIAMI BEACH BARBER has been arrested for selling dope. . . . "Bay Rum, witch hazel or a trip to the moon?"

"Labor to organize white-collar workers." — headline. . . . Anybody calling them white-collar workers today is behind the times in style and colors.

Electric Rabbit at a Florida greyhound track: "It's a dog's life!"

President Eisenhower in his appeal for public co-operation in fighting inflation says, "I am not asking for people to be altruistic. I am just asking them to act as enlightened Americans for their own long-term interest." . . . Okay, Ike, but resistance to enlightenment is at an all-time high, and when you try to spread it you will find your enlightener "ain't working." We fear. . . . The American people are living high off the hog, reaching for new luxuries and playing with the deuces wild. . . . They just won't stop on enlightenment signals.

A People-to-People Foundation is starting business as a sort of newer Voice of America aiming for better understandings with all nations through direct approaches, over the heads of government agencies and hoping to get at the "grass roots." . . . This is a fine idea, but this corner wishes a little attention would be paid to keeping Americans informed on the passing scene. . . . For example, no TV station and only one small radio station covers in any detail the most important doings at U.N., despite the fact the words and deeds there are often of vast importance to the future of us all. . . . We just heard a new TV fan complain, "It's dull on video tonight. I tuned in all over and there ain't a prison riot anywhere."

The department decided to go ahead with two other projects discussed at public hearings. One for relocating about one half mile of Ohio 66 at Delphos in Van Wert County and the other for relocating 2.9 miles of U. S. 50 in Vinson County.

WCTU Honors Ministers' Wives at Afternoon Tea

Five wives of Salem ministers, a minister and a Salvation Army officer shared honors at a tea given by the Salem Woman's Christian Temperance Union Tuesday afternoon in the Memorial Building.

The group included Mrs. E. M. Parks, Mrs. John Bauman, Mrs. Harold B. Winn, Mrs. William C.

Snowball, Mrs. A. Laten Carter, Rev. Constance Gough and Lt. Helen Beekman.

Two other honorees were Miss Josephine Dunn, president of the Winona Union, and Mrs. Mabel Todd of Akron. Miss Pearl Walker, WCTU president, gave the welcome.

Mrs. Parks, main speaker for the occasion, gave a forceful talk relating to juvenile delinquency and local moral problems.

"Whatever attitude a Christian may hold in regards to drinking, most of them will agree that in the use of alcoholic beverages, we have a problem on our hands," Mrs. Parks declared.

"The liquor traffic, in seeking more customers through entrance into the American home, is now associating beer and ale with food. 'Every Christian woman has a place to fill and a job to do in holding up the moral standards of her community,' the speaker pointed out. 'We can pray God to destroy the cocktail bars in the home and restore the family altar,' she said.

Rev. Gough, who is pastor of the Wesleyan Methodist Church, gave an inspirational talk based on the fourth chapter of Philipians. Mrs. James Miller reviewed a chapter from the study book. "Where Prayer and Purpose Meet."

Mrs. Carter led the group in singing, "O Master, Let Me Walk With Thee." Mrs. Edith Dean gave the "Salute to the Flags — American Christian and Temperance."

Mob Smashes Phone Office At Adena

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (U) — A mob smashed doors and windows and hurled pop bottles at non-union operators in the Adena exchange of the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. Thursday night. Nobody was hurt.

It was the second such raid this week. Tuesday night the Dillonvale exchange, four miles from Adena, was knocked out of operation for a day by a mob wielding sledge hammers and concrete blocks.

The exchanges have been operated by non-union "supervisory personnel" since the Communications Workers Union struck the company seven months ago.

In Columbus, federal mediators said they were optimistic over progress in negotiations, which continue today in the Seneca Hotel there. The union struck July 15. Disputes over 16 issues, including company insistence on elimination of a union shop clause, are holding up agreement.

The sheriff's office said "from eight to 15" men attacked the exchange at Adena, a coal mining village about 18 miles from Steubenville. Windows and doors of the building had been covered with plywood panels, but the mob blasted the panel off a door with a dynamite cap and battered in the others with logs.

They threw bottles at the four operators, Stephen Desorbo, New York; William Caudle and Oran Hine, San Angelo, Tex., and Jack Cline, Muskegon, Mich. They left their switchboards for shelter in other parts of the building, but returned to work when the raiders left after about 10 minutes.

Meanwhile, in Portsmouth, Judge James W. Lenz Jr. Adams County said today he will sentence 11 telephone strikers in Scioto County next Tuesday.

Judge Adams placed the 11 on $1,000 peace bonds after a hearing last October. The strikers were charged with violating a court injunction by interfering with company employees.

Contempt of court charges against 20 other strikers are being heard in Portsmouth in a hearing conducted by Judge William D. Radcliff, of Pickaway County.

no choice but to exert pressure on Israel to withdraw. But he specifically mentioned only "moral pressure" as one of the "types of sanction."

This could mean the United States is ready only to vote a strongly worded condemnation of Israel — as the Assembly did against Russia for her intervention in the Hungarian rebellion. Russia's flouting of that "sanction" is one reason why U.S. congressional leaders of both parties oppose any stronger action against Israel.

Fate Of Racial Bill Remains Undecided

ATLANTA (U) — The fate of a segregation bill which a baseball spokesman says is enacted "will surely sound the death knell of the South Atlantic League" was still undecided as the Georgia Legislature opened today's final meeting of the 1957 session.

The bill, passed by a 31-0 vote in the Senate, would outlaw interracial sports and social activities in the state. It was recommended unanimously for house passage Thursday by the rules committee.

Rep. Colbert Hawkins, administration floor leader, said he would ask that the bill be brought to a vote in the House today. If the measure reaches the floor, its passage seems certain.

Earl Mann, president-owner of the Atlanta Crackers in the Southern Assn., commented Thursday. "Should the bill pass, it will surely sound the death knell of the South Atlantic League and put 160 baseball players out of a job, the overwhelming majority of them white."

Area Rest Homes Regularly Inspected For Fire Safety

Precautionary measures to insure a maximum of fire safety for area rest homes are rigidly enforced, Fire Chief Clarence W. Wright reported today.

Rest homes in Salem and throughout Columbiana County are inspected by Joseph Grantonic, state fire inspector from Mingo Junction, and Thomas Cartwright, of the water factory building department from East Liverpool, he said.

He stated that both men make sure that the homes come up to the latest standards of safety.

Wright said the homes are checked for proper heating, proper wiring under the national electrical code, exit doors that swing out, and placement of fire extinguishers every 2,000 square feet.

Wright explained that the rest homes within Salem proper and Perry Township fall within his jurisdiction while the homes outside these limits are under the jurisdiction of Grantonic and Cartwright.

Area Rest Homes Regularly Inspected For Fire Safety

Precautionary measures to insure a maximum of fire safety for area rest homes are rigidly enforced, Fire Chief Clarence W. Wright reported today.

Rest homes in Salem and throughout Columbiana County are inspected by Joseph Grantonic, state fire inspector from Mingo Junction, and Thomas Cartwright, of the water factory building department from East Liverpool, he said.

He stated that both men make sure that the homes come up to the latest standards of safety.

Wright said the homes are checked for proper heating, proper wiring under the national electrical code, exit doors that swing out, and placement of fire extinguishers every 2,000 square feet.

Wright explained that the rest homes within Salem proper and Perry Township fall within his jurisdiction while the homes outside these limits are under the jurisdiction of Grantonic and Cartwright.

Plane With 159 Aboard Crashlands

SEOUL, South Korea (U) — An Air Force C124 carrying 159 American servicemen crashlanded on an island in the Han River tonight. First reports said none was killed.

At least 22 men were taken to a nearby Army hospital, 11 of them on stretchers. Some were downed by helicopter.

Engine trouble forced the huge plane to crashland about 10 miles before reaching Seoul's Kimpo Airport. The plane was coming from Japan with 149 servicemen returning from leave. There was a 10-man crew aboard.

The Globemaster was assigned to the 274th Troop Carrier Wing stationed at Tachikawa Air Base near Tokyo.

Queen's Husband Is Made A Prince

LONDON (U) — Queen Elizabeth II tonight officially created her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, a British prince.

A brief announcement in the London Gazette, the court journal, said:

"The Queen has been pleased to declare her will and pleasure that his royal highness the Duke of Edinburgh shall henceforth be known as his royal highness the Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh."

The duke has been popularly known as Prince Philip but up until now this has not been an official title. Philip was born a Greek prince but before his marriage to Princess Elizabeth he renounced the title.

Up until now Edinburgh has been No. 30 on the roll of nobility. His own son, 8-year-old Prince Charles, is listed first after the Queen and then came the royal dukes—Gloucester, Windsor and Kent.

Police Officials Cited On Liquor Charges

TULSA, Okla. (U) — Police Commissioner Jay L. Jones, Tulsa's highest law enforcement officer, the police chief and a prominent newspaper reporter were among 20 persons indicted Thursday by a federal grand jury.

They were accused of conspiracy to violate federal liquor laws by aiding in the importing of tax-paid liquor into constitutionally dry Oklahoma.

The indictment climaxed seven weeks of work by the grand jury, headed by U. S. Atty. B. Hayden Crawford. He said the jurors had returned only a partial report and will meet again next week. More indictments are expected.

In addition to Jones, others named included Police Chief Paul J. Livingston and Nolen Bulloch, veteran Tulsa Tribune general assignment reporter. Six other Police Department members accused in the report were Jack Gott, Leo Jackson, John E. Cole, Jim R. Harp, William T. Peterson and Oliver Stephens.

June Allyson, Dick Powell Are Separated

HOLLYWOOD (U-P) — June Allyson and Dick Powell have separated. Their friends weren't surprised; the Powells reportedly had separated before, for brief periods — yet the fans considered it a most romantic union.

But a parting of the ways was acknowledged for the first time Thursday night by both Powell and Miss Allyson, who were wed 11½ years ago. He is 52, she is 33. "We have not been getting along in the past few years, even though we tried," conceded Miss Allyson. "I have decided that Richard and I have a better chance for happiness if we are apart from one another."

Said Powell: "It's true, we have not been getting along, but I thought it was worth another chance. Unfortunately June did not agree."

Both denied that any other man or woman was involved, and both said no divorce is in prospect immediately. They have two children, Pamela, 8, and Richard Jr., 6.

Just a year ago the quotes were very different. At that time rumors of trouble between them were met by Miss Allyson with the statement: "As far as I'm concerned our marriage will last forever... I'm madly in love with the man. He's so good for me."

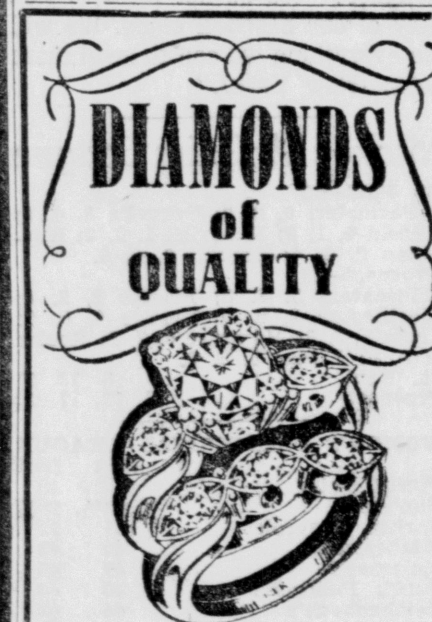

And Powell chimed in then: "This sort of thing has been brought up by the troublemakers before, and it will be again. It's stupid, because I don't know two people who are more happily married. We are perfect for each other..."

It was June's first marriage. Powell was married twice previously, first to a nonprofessional, Mildred Maund. His second marriage, to Joan Blondell in 1936, ended when she divorced him in 1944.

Search Ended For Missing U. S. Rocket

ALAMOGORDO, N. M. (U-P) — The location of the remnants of an errant military rocket apparently may remain locked unknown in the high Rockies of Colorado or the colored Desert reaches of Utah.

Thursday the 39½ feet long Matador escaped remote controls operated from Holloman Air Development Center. Officials said it had about an hour's fuel left.

They said they believe it soared northwestward over five-sixths of New Mexico and probably landed in southwest Colorado or south-east Utah. The region is sparsely populated, a land where industry is based on ranching, mining, logging, natural gas and oil.

The Air Force planned to give up its search Friday morning for the big missile, which has a wingspan of 27.9 feet, a ceiling of more than 35,000 feet and a speed in excess of 650 m.p.h.

Spokesmen for the Air Force said the search would be abandoned because continuation "would cost more than the missile is worth." They said it did not carry an explosive warhead and was equipped only with instruments.

Eight minutes after the firing at this test center deep in southwestern New Mexico, the ground-to-ground guided missile which is used as a tactical weapon, ran wild.

Military jets in New Mexico and Utah were sent up to try to find the pilotless missile. The search was in vain.

There were reports from individuals in southwestern Utah and in northeastern Utah that the electronically controlled missile, capable of carrying either conventional or atomic warheads, had been spotted.

Then a report of an explosion 60 miles northeast of Rock Springs, Wyo., set off a search in that area — 650 miles from Holloman. A Ground Observer Corps spokesman at Casper, Wyo., said a check indicated the report stemmed from a dynamite blast set off by a seismograph crew looking for oil.

Policeman Shoots Man In Apartment

CLEVELAND (U-P) — Shot four times by a policeman, an unidentified man of about 40 died early today in St. Luke's Hospital, a few hours after he was trapped in an apartment at 11020 Woodstock Ave.

Patrolman Robert DeFratis fired six bullets at the man who tried to run instead of obeying a command to halt. One bullet hit him in the stomach, two in the back and a fourth in the jaw.

Because there had been a series of four burglaries at homes in that neighborhood while the residents were attending funerals, a police trap was set Thursday at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Ferrazza, 6, who was at a funeral home wake for her husband.

DeFratis said that while waiting in the woman's upstairs apartment he heard someone break glass in a rear door downstairs. The patrolman telephoned for other police then went upstairs where he said he saw the man in the kitchen.

The Fund, which concerns itself with civil rights, offered prizes of $2,500, $1,000, $500 and 10 of $100 to persons "writing the best letters giving true stories about Americans whose actions have made an unusual contribution to advancing the principles of freedom and justice in the Bill of Rights."

Ranked as second place winner was the story about Mrs. Ann Harr and Mrs. Bessie Dick, in Akron, Ohio, "whose efforts on behalf of a Catholic refugee from Communist Poland resulted in his being cleared of false charges."

the Fund said. The letter writer was Robert Repas of Akron.

It said the two Akron women witnessed police mistreatment of Stanislaw Kiszycski in a bus station, and testified for him in court after he was booked on charges of loitering and resisting arrest.

Fairfield Enters Finals Of County Class A Tournament

Comets Edge Salineville 56-53

Howdy Cope Paces Victors With 33

Howdy Cope, a little guy with out much court finesse but a hustler with an uncanny jump shot, led the Fairfield Comets into the finals of the Columbiana County Class "A" tournament Thursday night.

The diminutive Fairfield ace poured in 33 points to beat Salineville virtually by himself in a 56-53 thriller played before some 300 fans at United High School.

Cope collected only 11 of his points in the first half and Salineville held a 31-26 advantage at intermission, but he caught fire in the third period and scored 14 of Fairfield's next 15 points as the Comets pulled into a 44-44 tie at the end of the period.

He then tallied eight more points in the final quarter as Fairfield took a 55-51 lead with 1:25 remaining and held it despite two scoring opportunities by the Indians.

WITH ONLY SECONDS left in the contest and the Comets leading by two points, 55-53, Cope stepped to the foul line and converted a free throw to wrap up the decision.

As a dubious reward for their efforts, the Comets move into the finals against New Waterford. Dubious because the Trojans (14-6) have not been beaten by another county team all season and are heavily favored to win the championship for the second straight year and represent Columbiana County in the sectional trials at Youngstown.

Nevertheless, the Comets (4-15) will bid for the title Saturday night at 8 when they appear on the United floor for the third time this week.

Fairfield opened the tournament Tuesday by wallowing United, 62-53. Meanwhile, New Waterford rolled to a 110-53 victory over Beaver Local Wednesday to advance to the finals.

The Comets won last night although they trailed most of the way until the last six minutes, and for all practical purposes lost the services of two starters when they were charged with four fouls each in the first half.

COACH BING NEWTON benched Tom Brown with 3:45 remaining in the second quarter and he did not return to action. Paul Esenwein was idle for all but the last three minutes of the second half.

But it was Cope who was needed and he came through with his second brilliant performance in the tournament. He scored 27 points Tuesday night to pace the Comets against United.

Regardless of the outcome of the final game, Fairfield's star already has stamped himself as the outstanding performer in the tournament.

Without him, it is doubtful that Fairfield would have been in contention at all last night. As it was, the score was tied 12 times and the lead changed hands on six occasions before Fairfield went ahead to stay early in the fourth quarter.

Carl Green connected from the field to give the Indians a momentary 46-44 lead in the first 20 seconds of the final period.

Carl Green connected from the field to give the Indians a momentary 46-44 lead in the first 20 seconds of the final period.

GREEN NARROWED IT to 50-49 with a foul and a jump shot and Cope made it a difference of two with a free throw.

Salineville's Bill Mundy then meshed a layup to tie it for the last time at 51-51.

Cope broke the deadlock with another jump and Esenwein widened the margin to 55-51 with 1:25 remaining. Jim Madison capped Salineville's scoring with a fielder 17 seconds later.

Miner and Esenwein missed free throws in the last minute and the Indians grabbed the rebound both times, but were unable to capitalize. Their last chance came with nine seconds remaining when Green's set shot missed the mark.

Cope then dropped in his foul and the final buzzer sounded before the doomed Indians could move across midcourt.

Neither team was particularly accurate from the field. Salineville

Greenford Defeated By Lowellville

Lowellville's Rockets, with five men hitting in the double figures, took runnerup honors in the Mahoning County Class A Tournament when they defeated Greenford 82-71 Thursday night at Struthers.

Lowellville, which lost out in the finals to Goshen, 50-48, last Saturday, now advances into the district playoffs in Youngstown.

The Rockets last night lost no time in moving out in front as they took a 16-11 first quarter lead and then stretched it to 35-23 at the intermission.

Although the Bobcats outscored their opponents in the second half, the gain wasn't enough to overcome Lowellville's first half lead.

Greenford's Jack Brudery led game scoring honors on 8 fielders and 11 fouls for 27 points.

Gene Slaven paced the well-balanced Lowellville offense with 21 points.

Greenford—71
Brudery 8, 11, 27; Hendricks 8, 2; Toot 3, 7, 13; Ray Hiner 2, 5, 9; Dave Hiner 1, 0, 2; Ewing 1, 0, 2.

ad the edge in marksmanship with 20 fielders in 57 attempts for 35 per cent, compared to 21 of 63 by Fairfield for 33 per cent.

JIM MADISON, WHO converted six straight free throws and added a basket in the opening quarter, paced the Indians with 18 points. Mundy tallied eight in the first period and finished with 16, while Green collected 11.

There were three ties in the opening minutes (2-2, 7-7 and 8-8) before Mundy and Madison put Salineville ahead by 12-8 with a layup and a pair of free throws, respectively.

Fairfield then took a lead of 13-12 on a foul by Esenwein, a drive by Chuck Miner and Esenwein's rebound.

The score was tied twice more in the first period. The first was at 14-14 after Mundy connected on a jump shot and Cope netted a foul and the second at 16-16 when Cope matched Madison's two free throws with a jump.

Madison drove for a basket to give the Indians an 18-16 edge at the end of the period.

Esenwein opened the slow second quarter with two fouls, but Salineville took a lead of 22-18 on a rebound and two free throws by Madison. Cope drove, then hit on a jump for a 22-22 tie with 5:05 left in the first half.

MADISON AND LAVERNE Kessler traded fielders and Green and Cope did the same for two more times at 24-24 and 26-26. Salineville then closed the half with five straight points on Madison's free throw, a set shot by Green and a push shot by Mundy.

Green and Bob McCloskey hit on jump shots and Madison netted a foul to more than offset two fielders by Cope as Salineville widened the margin to 36-30 early in the third quarter.

Cope scored four quick points and Miner's free throw pulled the Comets to within one of a tie at 36-35.

Two jump shots by Cope sent Fairfield into the lead at 41-40 with 2:43 left in the period and Bob Guy added a foul before McCloskey scored from the field for a 42-42 deadlock.

A rebound by Fairfield's Lou Groubert and a jump shot by Mundy left the two teams tied at 44-44 as the third quarter ended.

Cope and Miner gave the Comets their 50-46 advantage early in the final period and they retained the lead thereafter except for the 51-51 tie.

The Indians ended their first season under Coach Richard Jones with a record of eight victories and 11 defeats.

Aragon Convicted Of Fixing Charge

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ring officials say Art Aragon's boxing future is "very doubtful" following his conviction on a felony fight-fixing charge.

The 29-year-old Golden Boy was found guilty Thursday of offering another Los Angeles welterweight, Dick Goldstein, $50 to throw a fight scheduled for Dec. 18 at San Antonio, Tex.

The California Athletic Commission said Aragon's 1957 boxing license would not be issued.

After the jury's verdict Thursday, Clayton Frye, secretary of the commission, said that in his opinion Aragon's ring chances were "very doubtful."

Aragon, third-ranking welterweight at the time of his arrest, stared blankly when the verdict was read aloud in the packed courtroom.

He walked stoically from the eyes of his pretty red-haired wife, Georgia. Later he told newsmen: "Honest to God, it isn't so."

Aragon's attorney said that he would file a motion for a new trial March 14, a week before the date set by Superior Judge Herbert V. Walker for probation hearing and sentence.

The conviction carries a possible maximum sentence of five years in prison, a maximum fine of $5,000 or both.

Aragon has been under suspension in all National Boxing Assn. states since the Texas Athletic Commission suspended him when the Goldstein charges were first aired.

Goldstein told authorities in San Antonio that Aragon had offered him a bribe to go down in the fourth round of their scheduled 10-rounder. The fight was later cancelled when Aragon reported he was ill with a fever.

Aragon's attorney, Paul Caruso, told reporters:

"We intend to do everything possible to get him back in the ring. Art has another two years of boxing in him, at least."

Aragon, currently unranked, had close to 100 fights and has earned nearly a half million dollars in the ring.

Neither boxer has been in action since their September brawl although they have been training hard.

Basilio owns a 49-12-7 record in a career dating back to 1948. He has knocked out 23 men and never was stopped. Saxton's record is 53-5-2 for 60 starts with 21 knockouts.

NBC will broadcast and telecast at 10 p.m. EST.

Much depends on the way Saxton chooses to make his fight. The 26-year-old New Yorker has been involved in some dull contests when he stabs and runs. If he sticks with his announced plans of boxing Basilio, the result could be another controversial decision.

However, Basilio crashed through Saxton's defense last time even after Johnny started to move backward. He was unable to slug with the champ and couldn't stand off his persistent all-out drive.

This may be the last of the "series" because there is no rematch contract this time. If Basilio wins he probably will go gunning for bigger game, challenging the Ray Robinson - Gene Fullmer winner for the middleweight crown.

Dodgers Buy L. A. Stadium

Team to Move If They Don't Get New Park

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Los Angeles will have major league baseball "no later than 1960." So says Brooklyn Dodgers President Walter F. O'Malley, one of baseball's better poker players currently dueling with the New York city officialdom.

The pot: a new stadium in Flatbush for the National League champions.

O'Malley predicted big league ball — not necessarily Dodgers variety — for Los Angeles after Thursday's announcement of Brooklyn's purchase from the Chicago Cubs of the Los Angeles ball park and franchise in the Pacific Coast League.

O'Malley said the Dodgers presently plan to operate the Los Angeles team in the PCL. But he indicated again that the Dodgers may move out of Brooklyn.

"The Dodgers will play in a new park in 1960," he said, adding, "If not Brooklyn, then somewhere else."

The complicated deal whereby the Dodgers kicked wide the door to westward expansion of major league baseball worked this way.

Brooklyn bought the Los Angeles ball park and franchise.

The Cubs received the Dodgers' Fort Worth franchise in the Texas League, but not the park or real estate. The Cubs will lease Fort Worth's LaGrave Field from Marvin Kratter, the real estate who recently bought Brooklyn's Ebbets Field.

The Dodgers will end their limited working agreement with Portland in the PCL, and Chicago may assume that agreement, said Cub President Philip K. Wrigley.

Financial figures of the wide-ranging deal were not disclosed. The transaction followed the Dodgers' recent sale of their Ebbets Field home, their Montreal (International League) and Fort Worth property for about $4,000,000.

O'Malley explained that the conversion of property into cash gave the Dodgers funds for their share of the 7½ million dollars needed to build a new stadium in Brooklyn.

The Dodgers have long been unhappy with cramped Ebbets Field and last season played seven home games in Jersey City, N.J. Following sale of the field, the Dodgers leased the property for three years and must move out by 1960.

However, even if the Dodgers want to move their franchise to Los Angeles, they couldn't do so immediately. According to baseball law, minor league territory can be drafted only between Oct. 1 and Dec. 1.

Civic leaders alarmed at the prospect of losing the Dodgers, began to move last year. A Brooklyn Sports Center Authority was appointed by the state. But the New York City Board of Estimate allotted only $25,000 to the authority for a study of the proposed new center. The authority had asked for $280,000.

O'Malley recently said he would wait just six months to see if the Dodgers were going to get a new stadium in Brooklyn, "then I will have to make other arrangements."

Is he bluffing? O'Malley says no. "Perhaps," said O'Malley, "people who accused me of bluffing will now realize I was taking logical steps. I never was bluffing nor would I like to hear it said I am using a big club (on the city of New York). I used every soap box I could find to shout and tell the people of Brooklyn that Ebbets Field was antiquated and something had to be done."

New York officials were quick to proclaim their loyalty to the Dodgers. Said William R. Peer, executive secretary to Mayor Wagner: "We do not want to lose any of our baseball clubs. We will do everything we can to keep them here (New York)."

INCOME TAX PRIMER

Retirement Income Credit

By RICHARD A. MULLENS
Written for NEA Service

Before deciding whether to file your return on the simple form 1040A or the more complicated Form 1040 you must know whether you qualify for any of the tax breaks which can be claimed only on Form 1040.

The previous Primer articles have described all but one of such tax breaks. The last one is the retirement income credit, a tax break given for the first time in 1954 to people who retire on their own savings and investments.

Congress again changed the law last year to make it easier for taxpayers over 65 to qualify for the retirement income credit. Here's how the credit works:

ALL TAXPAYERS OVER 65 and those taxpayers under 65 who are retired under a public retirement system established by the United States, or a state, territory, possession or political subdivision are allowed a credit against their tax of 20 per cent of their "retirement income."

"Retirement income" is defined as income from pensions, annuities, interest, rents and dividends. The amount taken into account in any one year may not exceed $1,200 for each taxpayer minus the sum of:

1. Exempt social security or Railroad Retirement Act pensions or annuities received;
2. Other tax exempt pensions or annuities received, such as a veterans' pension (but not armed forces retirement pay based on disability resulting from active service), and
3. In the case of a taxpayer under 65, any earned income in 1956 in excess of $900. In the case of taxpayers 65 and over and under 72, any earned income in excess of $1,200. Earned income means salaries, wages, or other compensation for personal services. Once a taxpayer is 72, this third reduction does not apply.

The retirement income credit can only be claimed by filling out Schedule K of Form 1040. If a joint return is filed, Column A is for the wife and Column B for the husband.

EACH SPOUSE may qualify for the credit provided he and she can both answer "yes" to the question: Did you receive earned income (that is, income from wages, salaries, or other compensation for personal services) of more than $600 in any 10 prior years? If only one spouse can answer "yes" to this question, then only that spouse can fill out the remainder of the column to see if he qualifies for the credit. A widow or widower may answer "yes" to this question if the deceased spouse met the 10 year income test.

By filling out the remaining items in Schedule K under each column with a "yes" check, your retirement income credit will show up as the amount in line 12. This amount is then transferred to line 13 (b), page 1 of Form 1040 where it is subtracted from the tax otherwise due.

Now you are ready to decide which tax form to use in reporting your 1956 income.

HERE ARE SOME TIPS which will help you.

- You may use Form 1040 A if:
1. Your gross income is less than $5,000 and
 2. Your gross income was received in the form of salary, wages, dividends, or interest, and
 3. Your gross income from sources other than wages subject to withholding does not exceed $100.
- A married couple may make a joint return on Form 1040A if the combined income meets the above test. Married couples whose legal residence is in a community property state may not file separate returns on Form 1040A.

Do not use Form 1040A if:

1. You qualify as "head of household" or "surviving spouse."
2. Your personal deductions exceed 10 per cent of your adjusted gross income.
3. You have any reimbursed expenses, out-of-town travel expenses, transportation expenses related to your work, or expenses as an outside salesman. (See article 4.)
3. You have dividend income in excess of the dividend exclusion. (See article 5.)
5. You are entitled to the credit for retirement income explained above in this article.
6. You have made payments of estimated tax for 1956.
7. You had more than $84 of F.I.C.A. Social Security tax withheld from your pay in 1956 because you received wages from more than one employer. (See article 12.)
8. You are entitled to the exclusion for sick pay. (See article 4.)

You may use short Form 1040 if: Your adjusted gross income, item 11, page 1 of Form 1040, is less than $5,000. You cannot itemize deductions on the Short Form 1040.

Do not use Short Form 1040 if: Your personal deductions exceed 10 per cent of your adjusted gross income.

Long Form 1040 can be used by any taxpayer who itemizes his deductions on page 2. This form must be used whenever the adjusted gross income shown in item 11, page 1, of Form 1040 is $5,000 or more.

THOSE OF YOU using Form 1040A may, if you wish, compute your own tax from the schedule on the instructions. Or, if you prefer, you can leave the tax computation spaces blank and let the District Director compute the tax.

The District Director of Internal Revenue will use the tax table printed on the instructions for Form 1040A to compute your tax and send you a refund or a bill depending on whether too much tax or too little tax was withheld from your pay. If you compute your own tax, you must pay any tax due when you file the return.

Those of you using the Short Form 1040 should fill in page 1 and, if necessary, part of page 2 showing all your exemptions and all your income and the schedules on page 4 if applicable to you. Then find your tax from the Tax Table on the last page of the official instructions.

Just follow the simple instructions at the top of the Table and be sure to select the exemption column that corresponds to the number of exemptions you claim on page 1. Then enter the tax on item 12, on page 1. The last few steps necessary to complete your Short Form 1040 will be described in tomorrow's article.

Those of you who itemize deductions or who have incomes in excess of $5,000 must use the tax computation schedule on page 2 of the return to compute your tax.

SIX MINUTES IS A LONG TIME — Marilyn Kempf, 6, listens to a watch to get an idea of how long it takes six minutes to tick away. That's how long her heart was stopped while doctors repaired a hole between the heart's left and right ventricles. An ice mattress was used to lower Marilyn's body temperature to 84 degrees, stopping the heart and slowing blood circulation. She was released from a Chicago hospital with the usually fatal defect corrected.

tions or who have incomes in excess of $5,000 must use the tax computation schedule on page 2 of the return to compute your tax.

NEXT: The final step.

Ohio Pike To Remain On Interstate System

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio stymied in one effort to add another 241 miles to the interstate highway system, apparently will have to carry its request to Congress.

The Federal Bureau of Public Roads said Thursday it has no authority to grant the request.

Charles M. Noble, Ohio's new highway chief, discussed the issue with Bertram F. Tallamy, federal highway administrator.

Noble asked that "the 241 miles of the Ohio Turnpike be removed from the designated interstate system so that this amount of mileage would be available to construct new highways elsewhere in the state."

The federal government pays 90 percent, and the state 16 per cent, of construction costs for interstate highways.

"I requested," Noble said in a statement, "that we be permitted to include the amount of money required to build the new 241 miles of roads in the estimate which we will submit to Congress in January, 1958."

The new 1957 Ann Baldwin dress form takes into account these slight, but oh-so-important figure changes. Exclusive patented features allow you to adjust the bust, waist and hip sections of your Ann Baldwin Dress Form separately and independently of each other. Yes, now at last, here is a dress form that not only lets you gain or lose up to 15 pounds and still adjusts to match your figure — but a dress form that you can also adjust for every individual figure change within the dress size you now wear. A dress form that is your exact "twin" right down to every last bulge and curve. A dress form that ends bungling guesswork forever and gives you a perfect fit every time.

Be sure to state bust, waist, hip, dress size when ordering.

EXPERT LAWN CARE

The Base of Good LANDSCAPING Is a Beautiful Lawn!

Regardless of how well your yard is landscaped it will not have the desired effect if your lawn is not thick and a good green color. Regular fertilizing is necessary to keep your lawn in vigorous, growing condition that will insure this desirable color. Early spring feeding enables grasses to get a head start on weeds, creating a lesser weed problem in summer.

This is why we have been repeating the suggestion that a regular lawn fertilizing program be adopted. Generally, we recommend fertilizing in March and in September. If you are troubled with weeds, crab grass, soil insects, grubs, or other lawn problems, let us make recommendations.

LLOYD O. GIBBONS, OWNER

A unique story of American ingenuity and enterprise lies behind the combination storm-screen window, which matches the electric washer and refrigerator in its contribution to better living.

It is the story of pioneers... both a man and a company. The man is Harold A. Etling, who gave birth to the combination window. His company — Weather-Seal, Inc. — mushroomed the new product into a multi-million dollar industry which now blankets the nation.

Back in 1934, at the height of the depression, Etling — then a Barberton, O., lumber salesman — devised the first storm window with inter-changeable screen and glass inserts which could be switched from inside the house.

With $2,000 capital, he organized Weather-Seal and launched production in a small one-room assembly plant. Thus, the new industry was born.

We are Proud to be A Part of WEATHER-SEAL ... The Pioneer and Leader

Today, hundreds of companies daily produce many thousands of storm-screen windows. The product has become a household necessity in eastern and midwestern states where contrasting weather requires window insulation in winter and maximum ventilation in summer. Its contribution towards conserving heating fuels during World War II was immeasurable.

Weather-Seal not only marketed the first combination window, but pioneered the development of the industry and still stands as its leader. The company — quickly outstripping its original production facilities — now maintains plants in Ottawa, Orville, Marshallville and Barberton, O., with home offices in the latter.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The sight of Ohio's governor walking through county fairs apparently won't be as common this year as it has been in the past. Former Gov. Frank J. Lausche went to as many fairs as he could. Political observers said the visits helped build up his votes.

His successor, Gov. C. William O'Neill, however, apparently intends to cut down the visits. The state Agriculture Department is preparing a list of six key fairs for the governor's attention, although the list probably will be expanded.

HOW THE PLAN SERVES YOUR CHILD: The original face amount jumps 2½ times at 15, and 5 times at 21—while the premiums always remain the same. (A $1,000 plan, for example, would jump to $5,000 at age 21.)

WANT AD

Talks Business To Everybody

... and Is Heard

If it's a salesman you want, you'll look far before you'll find a better one than a News Want Ad.

Small as it is, it packs a mighty wallop, and gets in places where a two-legged salesman can't get the tip of his toe. There are no barriers a Want Ad can't hurdle. It encounters no sales resistance because it's paid for by the advertiser and sought by the reader who buys The News to know what's for sale and who has it for sale. It's Wanted!

A News Want Ad is a tireless worker for anyone willing to hire its services.

It is a guide to business opportunities, often a promoter of an enterprise. It sells real estate, unused commodities and has a voice in thousands of transactions like no other medium of advertising.

It talks business to everybody, and is heard. For the price you pay, a News Want Ad is a force in selling you cannot afford to ignore. Better than 82,000 individual ads have been published in The News during the past twelve months and 82,000 of anything is worth consideration.

So, for things you want to buy, sell or rent—or for any other need — read and use News Want Ads.
